

WESTERN FRONT

RAIDS BY BRITISH

TROOPS.

ENEMY'S LOSSES IN AIRCRAFT.

There was renewed activity on the Western front yesterday. After losing only an enemy raid near Cullers-Breton, our troops carried out four successful raids on enemy positions. To one of these near Mallich, British troops, a stiff fight, returned with several prisoners. The enemy's aircraft were unusually active in the night. On Monday, six aeroplanes came over the position of our line in considerable numbers. They were shot down by our anti-aircraft batteries. There were numerous casualties on both sides. On Tuesday, our troops shot down four enemy aeroplanes and twenty-five enemy machines. A hostile battalion were shot down. South of the Aisne, near Ambleny, French carried out a smart local raid, which they took to be very successful, including two officers, and returning German raid near Amcourt, during the night.
